Sir A. Pearson Meets Death

Friend of the Blind is Drowned in Bath.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Sir Arthur Pearson is dead. While in his bath he slipped, striking his head against the faucet. Stunned, he fell into the water and was drowned before aid could reach him.

Cyril Arthur Pearson was born on February 24, 1856, son of the late Rev. Arthur Pearson, of Springfield, Chesham, and was made baronet in 1916. He was one of the outstanding publicists in England until his eyesight completely failed in 1914. He founded Pearson's Weekly and other publications among which probably the best known is the Daily Express of London. He also acquired the London Standard, which he consolidated with the St. James's Gazette, disposing of his property following his affliction. Sir Arthur was President of the National Institute for the Blind and was the founder of St. Dunstan's Hostel for the blind soldiers in London.

Others got six months with fines of 100 rupees.

DeValera's Influence Has Declined

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The final result of the deliberations in Dublin yesterday, which developed a split in the Dail Eireann Cabinet over the Irish Peace Treaty, has been to throw the treaty into an early meeting of the Southern Ireland Parliament. In his statement last night, declaring himself against the terms, Eamonn De Valera announced that the Dail had been summoned for next Wednesday morning. He also declared that his attitude was supported by two other members, Austin Black and Charles Burgess. The other Cabinet members are said to have remained firm in favor of the treaty. Correspondents, who had asserted that Dail Eireann would ratify the treaty, declare that popular opinion in the South of Ireland acclaimed the agreement with joy, and would insist on its ratification. The release yesterday of a large number of republicans interned for political offences, produced a strong feeling of good will toward Britain. The Daily Mirror in an editorial says "it is no secret that his (De Valera's) influence has greatly declined, while his telegram to the Pope was an almost total blunder which is unfortunate."

The Irish Loan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The new Irish Free State will assume obligations, in this country, of the Irish Republic, amounting to about six million dollars. Stephen M. O'Mara, Mayor of Limerick said last night Mr. O'Mara said the certificates of the Republic would be converted into bonds bearing interest at five per cent to correspond to the rate on the certificates.

Says That Griffith Must Be Supported

DUBLIN, Dec. 9.—The Freeman's Journal, commenting this morning on the split of Dail Eireann Cabinet, says, "the men who represented Ireland in conference demand that we cordially support their demand that the Irish people who desired and trusted in the appointment of these gentlemen as spokesmen of the nation should now support them to the fullest extent."

Magnificent Settlement

CORK, Dec. 9.—Bishop Daniel Cohan, in an interview to-day on the Anglo-Irish settlement, said: "I think it is a magnificent settlement and that our negotiators had a great triumph to secure such a peace. Ireland has now secured a system under which she can develop her fullest powers."

Bombs Still Used

May Purchase Steamer.—It is said in shipping circles that the steamer Gienarnock which is being laid up here for the winter, having reached this side too late to get up the St. Lawrence, may be purchased by a local company to be used in the coal trade between Sydney and here. The steamer is well adapted to this work.

DeValera May Resign If the Treaty Passes

A Plebiscite Would Give A Great Majority In Favour

LONDON, Dec. 9.—After the first surprise occasioned by De Valera's repudiation of the proposition for creating the Irish Free State, officials in both London and Dublin were occupied to-day mainly in canvassing prospects for ratification of the Treaty when it comes before the Dail Eireann next Wednesday. The balance of opinion in both cities is that Arthur Griffith, as sponsor for the Treaty will obtain an effective majority, although it was admitted here that DeValera possesses a strong following and voting may possibly be very close. If De Valera is defeated in the fight against ratification it is thought he may resign his position as head of Sinn Fein. Should the question be finally referred to a plebiscite of the Irish people, it is thought there would be a great majority in favor of the Treaty. Premier Craig of Ulster had a long conference to-day with Lloyd George and other British Ministers but nothing was made public regarding the results.

Irish Treaty Will Not Be a Cabinet Measure.

DUBLIN, Dec. 9.—DeValera to-day issued the following statement: "To prevent misunderstanding the public should realize, first, that the treaty signed by our plenipotentiaries must be ratified by the Dail Eireann no less than by the British Parliament; and second, that the usual course would be for the Cabinet to introduce the treaty as a cabinet measure. In the present case, owing to the fact that in the latter stage of negotiations the views of the plenipotentiaries differ from those of certain members of the Cabinet this course cannot be taken. The motion for ratification will now be introduced by Arthur Griffiths Chairman of the Delegation."

WEDDING BELLS

BUTT-BUTT

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Methodist Church, Western Bay, on Monday afternoon, Dec. 5th, when Miss Minnie Butt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Butt of Western Bay, was led to the altar by Mr. Jesse Butt also of this place. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. Winsor, in the presence of a large gathering of the young couples' friends and relatives, who, despite the inclement weather, were at the church to see the knot tied.

Shortly after three o'clock the bride, beautifully attired in georgette over white satin with veil, entered the church escorted by her father and attended, as bridesmaid, by her sister, Miss Laura Butt, and the little Misses Dave and Butt as flower girls, while the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Robert Butt, as best man.

After the ceremony the party drove to the home of the bride's father where the reception was attended by a large number of guests. After refreshments had been partaken of a toast to the bride and groom was very ably proposed by our genial J. P. Selby Butt; Resp. "National Anthem." Games and songs were then indulged in until a late hour, when the happy evening was brought to a close. The bride and groom were the recipients of many useful and attractive presents, composed chiefly of silver tableware and household effects.

Mr. and Mrs. Butt will continue to reside at this place, and we take this opportunity of wishing Mr. Butt every success as one of our future business men, and also wish him and Mrs. Butt bon voyage over the matrimonial sea.

Rev. D. B. Hemmeon

Rev. D. B. Hemmeon, Wolfville, occupied the pulpit of Roble street Methodist church last evening and was well comed by the congregation of which he was pastor some years ago. Rev. J. A. M. Hemmeon is a brother of Doctor J. A. M. Hemmeon, of Halifax.—Halifax Herald.

ST. JOHN'S NEWFOUNDLAND, SATURDAY, DEC. 10th., 1921.

Pledge Their Support!

The Daily News very kindly gives its readers a digest of the Address in Reply to the Speech by President Coaker, and there is no doubt whatever that that document merits the column which the News carries about it to-day.

Mr. Coaker's address has struck a note which leaves his enemies even without a word in their cheeks. The broad and clear lines of the policy which should be considered now by everyone dominated the speech. There was a note which took these matters out of the realm of petty politics and got men thinking of the benefit of the whole country rather than the fortunes of any political party. The Humbermouth proposition is one which should get the greatest consideration. Anyone who views the conditions to-day, and the slackness of employment will hail with joy the establishment of any industry which will employ thousands of men. This is not the time to "knock" on industry of this sort, and any sane man will agree with a policy of reasonable assistance which would be the means of the starting of the big plant in the West, giving new life to that section and bringing it development for which it has long been hoping.

The Fishery Policy, as outlined by Mr. Coaker, has also struck a chord which echoes in every heart, even those which have no love for the F. P. U. or for Mr. Coaker's politics. The result of this year's marketing, without Regulations, has proven without a doubt that the so-much abused Fish Regulations held the germ of a Policy which this country needs. There is simply no defence for the wretched system employed this year, and few there be who can point out wherein it has been an advantage to have scrapped the Regulations.

As for the loyalty to Mr. Coaker and the F.P.U. shown at the Convention, we have heard but one story from all who were there, and that is that it was one of the most successful conventions ever held, and the spirit of loyalty was as enthusiastic as ever.

We venture to say that throughout the country to-day there is a feeling among the fishermen and toilers of greater unity in the aims and objects which the F. P. U. espouses than almost at any time previous.

As a sample of the loyalty to Mr. Coaker we give the following message which has just come in:

(Special to Advocate)

WINTERTON, Dec. 10.—A big Union meeting was held here last night. The delegate from the convention outlined the progressive attitude adopted at that convention. Messrs Quinton and Abbott addressed the meeting and were enthusiastically received. A vote of confidence in President Coaker was passed unanimously. Winterton Council is as loyal as ever.

Rev. Charles Lench At F.P.U. Convention

Delivers An Interesting Speech To Delegates

We are glad to be able to give to-day some of the remarks in the splendid speech of Rev. Charles Lench at a public meeting during the F. P. U. Convention.

Mr. President, Delegates and Well Wishers of the Fishermen's Protective Union.

It gives me much pleasure to respond to your invitation to address you on this the occasion of your Annual Convention.

One cannot but wonder at the growth and progress of your association in the brief period of thirteen years, as signified by your beautifully illuminated arch (1908-1921.)

All through the ages of our civilization men have united for the purposes of self-protection. From time immemorial men have tried to construct a bridge between capital and labor, between the classes and the masses, between autocracy and democracy. The rich and the poor are yet a long distance from each other. The common people heard the Carpenter's Son gladly because they realized that they had in him a friend and sympathizer. Christ's great teaching of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, the doctrine of human equality, is gradually triumphing and Demos is coming into his Kingdom.

The days of feudalism are gone. Castles are become historic curiosities.

3 per cent v. 97 per cent.

The world has come to repudiate the idea of a captivated intellect. The idea of 3 per cent of learning for kings and rulers and civil servants and clergymen, and 97 per cent of illiteracy for the working classes is vanishing throughout the civilized world. A bridge is under construction that will soon connect both sides of the gulf. The dignity of labor has supplanted the idea of serfdom.

Pat and Mike.

Pat, the hod carrier, goes to the States and sends for Mike to hurry up. He had struck a beautiful job. All he has to do is to carry bricks to the top of a building where a fine gentleman kindly takes the bricks in charge and places them in position while Pat fetches more. A similar position he said was awaiting Mike. He had learnt the dignity of labor. The driver's lash and the peck of corn has gone. The black-skinned son of Ham is liberated and and William Wilberforce and Abram Lincoln are immortalized.

Let us hope that Russia will soon rise above her bloody revolution and that she will learn a more excellent way than that of Bolshevism as demonstrated by Lenine and Trotsky.

The London Socialist said: "Before I was converted I used to say, down with everything that is up; but now I say, up with everything that is down."

Miners' Unions &c.

When I was a lad the miners of England formed up a great union. I remember watching a very large procession in the heart of the pottery towns of Staffordshire. Probably eighty or 100,000 were on parade. At intervals brass bands appeared and banners with all kinds of attractive devices. E. G.:

8 hours' work,

8 hours play,

8 hours sleep,

8 bob a day.

Such was the signification of their agitation. It seemed a long way off.

About that time Joseph Arch, a Methodist local preacher, appeared. As a local preacher he had learnt the art of public speaking. He was returned to the British House of Commons and as the Farm Laborer's friend was the means of ameliorating their condition. He saw the man on the farm rise from ten to eighteen shillings per week.

A good story is told of those days. Two knights of the scythe were mowing the fields for the small compensation of one shilling a day and curds and whey for dinner. They felt their position and were mowing to the tune of "Come day, go day, the Lord send Sunday." Says Jack to Jim, as he straightened himself up, "I'm not going to kill myself for a shilling a day." Says Jim to Jack, "I'll see old farmer—far enough before I'll kill myself for a shilling a day." Soon the farmer himself appeared upon the scene. "Men," said he. "Yes sir!" said they. "Nice day. I want you to get a hustle on. I shall pay you two shillings a day while this weather lasts and ham and eggs for your dinner." Those men rolled up their sleeves and whet their scythes with alacrity, and went up the field saying: "Ham and eggs, look out for your legs." They turned the corner and came down the field saying: "Ham and eggs, look out for your legs." No more grumbling. The moral is a good one. Our economic problems will only find their solution in "a fair day's work for a fair day's pay."

Lord Darby and the Preacher.

But we may in our ardent zeal push the democratic idea too rapidly. A good story is told of Lord Derby, who one day found a preacher trespassing on his grounds. "What are you doing on my preserves?" said Lord Derby. "Well! my Lord," replied the preacher, "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof, but He never gave one a foot of land to put my feet on." "Well you can't trespass on my lands." "Where did you get these lands? From my father!" And where did he get them? From his father. "And where did he get them? From his ancestor?" And where did your ancestor get them? He fought for them!" The preacher then struck a fighting attitude and said:—"Then I'll fight you for them." Lord Derby didn't accept the preacher's challenge. Why should he? That preacher was unreasonable. Why shouldn't President Coaker have a comfortable home to dwell in? Nobody disputes that only some jealous folk who never helped the F. P. U. from the time of its inception until the present. I don't think it is any of their business. None of their money built the Bungalow. We have seen some changes in the commercial and economic life of this country during the last thirty-eight years. I began my life in Newfoundland, by collecting my own salary with a hoop and spring balance. Now the people pay in cash. Better times have come. Ladies go shopping with a purse in a hand-satchel. Venerable Old Truck system is on his last gasp.

It is one of the most tragic sights to see strong men, who waste no money in liquor and are prepared to work; standing with bare heads and tears in their eyes pleading with the merchant for bread for their almost starving families. We are passing through a crisis just now but it won't last forever. Days of prosperity are ahead.

The Value of Unity.

We have to learn the value of Unity. Unity is strength. Long ago Boaz came into the field and said to his laborers, "The Lord

Frank Free & Fearless

IT IS YOUR DUTY To Vote On December 15th

It Is Also Your Duty To Vote For The Best Men

bless you." And the reapers looked up from their work and greeted him with the words: "The Lord be with thee." What an object lesson upon capital and labor. We note that outside of the Masonic Temple in St. John's there are two detached pillars. What is their import? Let us call one Boaz and the other Jachin. Let one represent capital and labor, and the other, religion. Let capital and labor clasp hands with religion and Newfoundland is safe.

Jehu and Jehonadab

Two men once met on a country road in Palestine. One was riding in a chariot and the other was travelling on foot. Jehu said to Jonadab: "Is thy heart right as my heart is with thy heart?" Jehonadab said it was and Jehu said "Give me thy hand" and he invited him to a seat in his chariot.

Give Me Thy Hand.

I ask you to consider the significance of the hand when applied to the F. P. U. What is a hand without the thumb? How would you take hold of a hammer or a bottle. President Coaker is the thumb of your Protective Union.

Your Vice-President is the index finger. The various F.P.U.'s with their officers are the middle finger. Let the fourth finger represent your headquarters and business branches and the managers responsible for their success.

The fishermen are the rank and file and are represented by the little finger. The F. P. U. will live just as long as the fishermen rally around it. A chain is as strong as its weakest link. "Don't cut off your nose to spite your face." Don't dismember your thumb. Don't cut off the first and index finger. Don't amputate your middle finger. Don't remove your fourth finger. And take care and don't offend your little finger; and your Union is safe and will grow and prosper. Let brotherly love continue.

Again I thank you for the privilege accorded me of addressing you on this the occasion of your thirteenth anniversary.

The Strange Disappearance of Jasper Trim

"What do you infer from these messages, Fatson?" asked my friend Sheerluck Jones when I called at his Duckworth Street office, the other day. There was a round dozen of them and all referred in terms of anxious concern to the disappearance of one Jasper Trim, whom each writer described as his or her uncle.

"Well," I said with a smile, "I should surmise that Mr. Jasper Trim was a wealthy man."

"Wonderful," replied the great detective in bantering tones. "Yes, Jasper Trim is a very rich old man. He lived, up to two days ago, in a little house on Freshwater Road. I am now going to visit his home and some of the writers of these messages."

At the house on Freshwater Road, we found very little that would help elucidate the mystery. Nothing was disturbed; every room was neat and tidy, except the dining room, where 2 or 3 newspapers lay open on the table.

A neighbor stated that the old gentleman had not been seen for two days and when one of his nephews called at the house that morning, he failed to get a response. Fearing the worst, they managed, between them, to force the door, but failed to find any trace of the owner. The nephew had, then, notified the other relatives of his discovery.

We next visited Mr. Gregory Trim, another nephew living on Bond Street, from whom we learned that his uncle was of a kind disposition and very fond of children, also that he was of an economical turn of mind, "not a miser by any means," continued he, "but a very keen hand on a bargain."

Mr. Nathaniel Trim, yet another of the nephews, whom we visited, at Leslie Street, was a family man with nine children. "I often implored Uncle to come and live with us," he said, "seeing that he was so fond of the children, but the advantages of young society or even the offer of an egg for his tea, could not tempt him to leave his own little place."

To my astonishment, the great detective hurried me down to Water St. and aboard an eastbound street car. Opposite The Royal Stores we disembarked and spent some time wending in and out of different departments in that busy store. Finally, in the Toy department, we saw a little, rosy cheeked old man gazing with intense interest at the inner works of a toy steamboat. Sheerluck touched his arm. "Mr. Jasper Trim, I presume," he said. "Yes, that's my name," answered were the old man with a cheerful smile. "Your relatives have been making enquiries about you," said the detective. "You are supposed to have been missing for the last two days."

"Ho! Ho!" chuckled the old fellow, "what a potter about nothing." "Tis true that no one saw me during the last couple of days, as I was nursing a cold, and this morning early I started down town to do some Christmas shopping. I have to play Santa Claus to a lot of young relatives, you know," he explained, "and there is nothing I like getting things ready in time."

"Pooh! my dear Fatson," exclaimed Sheerluck later on. "The evening papers on the dining table gave the clue right away. If you had observed closely, you would have noticed that both were opened at the same page—the page which contains the Royal Stores advertisements—A man of his character would naturally gravitate to the place where he can get the most for his money."

LAW STUDENTS MOOT CLUB

A regular legal debate of the above club was held in the tower room of the Court House on Thursday evening, when the following case was argued—

A. a blind student from college, asked B of the same college for the loan of his bicycle. B consents and tells A the exact place in the shed where the bicycle is to be found. Owing to the bicycles in the shed having been rearranged by the cleaner A takes C's bicycle which is in the exact spot described by B and rides off. C, who is also a Student at X College having to hurry to a distant lecture, rushes to the shed for his bicycle and, finding it gone takes B's, C having turned a corner on B's bicycle collides with A, who is about 200 yards from the corner and is riding on the wrong side of the road. A is thrown to the ground and injured. B's bicycle is considerably damaged by the collision. A brings an action for personal damages against C. C sues A for conversion and B sues C for trespass and damages to his bicycle. Can A, B and C or any item recover?

Messrs. L. E. Emerson, and H. B. Winter, B.A., on the Bench as arbitrators. Messrs H. P. Carter and J. G. Muir counsel for A and B. Messrs Alfred Kelly and H. Garland, counsel for C.

In the first count A was ruled out of court and judgment given for C with costs.

In the 2nd action for conversion judgment was given against A for return of bicycle and costs of the action.

In the 3rd action for trespass and damages, judgment was in favor of B with substantial damages and costs on the higher scale.

The next debate will be held on Thursday, the 22nd inst., when counsel for C will move to have the judgment in the 3rd case set aside.

It will appear a mass so soft, lustrous, and easy to do up. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. "Danderine" is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. This delightful, stimulating tonic helps thin, lifeless, faded hair to grow long, thick, heavy and luxuriant.

Munn was apprised of a message from London yesterday that the three masted topsail schooner Olwen, had been abandoned in mid-ocean and the crew taken off and landed in England. Plane Down at Deer Lake

Forced Landing Terrible Unknown

The airplane carrying a mail from Botwood to Halifax left the former place at 10.30 this morning with Major Cotton and Capt. V. S. Bennett on board, according to a message received at noon by Deputy Minister of Customs, H. W. Lemessurier. Messages received by Mr. J. R. Bennett, M.H.A. yesterday said that the bay was frozen over and that the machine, which was then all ready for the flight, would have to "take off" from the ice. This the plane evidently did this morning. The other two machines, which will be used in patrol work during the coming season, are also ready for action.

A message was received in the city about 1 o'clock saying that the airplane which left Botwood for Halifax at 10.30 this morning had landed at Deer Lake after an hour and a half's flight. It is not yet known what caused the machine to alight but it was evidently some slight engine trouble.

LATEST.

The following message has been received by Mr. J. R. Bennett, M.H.A., from his son Capt. Sid Bennett:

Engine trouble. Landed O.K. Deer Lake. Bad time after reaching Topsails. Bad weather and wind clouds. It was a 5,000 ft. drop. Very bad time, took two hours to make 100 miles. Will probably make repairs here and carry on to-morrow.

TOWN POPULATION INCREASES

The census shows an increase in population within the municipality for ten years of 6,500 and this means that the population of St. John's is now about 40,000.

An interesting fact brought out by the census is that there is in reality very little of the much talked-of destitution in the city and that what there is of want is confined to one small section of the town.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Whereas it has been brought to the notice of the City Council that several of our public coves are unduly blocked by small schooners being permanently moored in them for the winter months, thereby causing much expense and delay in clearing the snow from Water Street, the Mayor respectfully asks that all persons responsible for this, will please co-operate with the Council in its efforts to keep the coves at least partly clear.

LOCAL INSURANCE RATES INCREASED

RUMOR SAYS ONLY BEST RISKS WILL BE TAKEN

It was currently reported yesterday that local marine insurance companies will refuse to accept any further risks but the very best and these only at increased rates. During the past season the companies have been hard hit, nearly fifty coasting and other coastwise vessels having been lost during the two big storms of this fall.

Not since these insurance companies began business have they been called upon to make good so many losses and they will feel the strain severely. The number of foreign going vessels list has been almost as great as the number of coastwise schooners.

AT THE COUNCIL

The weekly meeting of the Municipal Council was held yesterday.
The Mayor presided, and Councillors
Vinicombe, Peet, Collier, Jackman and Hallett were present. The Minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. The weekly accounts were then submitted.

A communication was received from the Newfoundland Board of Trade in reference to the watering of shipping, asking that some arrangement be made, whereby shipping concerns would be permitted to use the hydrants on their premises
without the assistance of the waterman, so as to avoid the present inconvenience and delay. They asked that this request be acceded to, pending the finalizing of details in connection with the matter, which they submitted, could be adjusted at a conference between the Council and representatives of the Board. The matter was deferred for consideration.

R. F. Horwood asked that the gutters near the Methodist College on Harvey Road, be given attention, so as to avoid the flooding of the above premises during rainstorms. This matter was referred to the City Engineer.

Miss J. E. White, South Side, wrote, protesting against the dumping of all kinds of refuse opposite her dwelling, and asking that same be immediately discontinued. The Sanitary Supervisor was instructed to see what can be done.

Mr. A. Pittman, South Side, called the attention of the Council to conditions generally on the South Side Road, and asked that something be done to remedy same. The Road and Sewerage Inspectors will do the best possible under the circumstances.

G. House, Winter Avenue, requested that the Sanitary Department be instructed to collect the garbage from his neighbourhood. The Supervisor will make the necessary arrangements.

J. Lawrence, Pleasant Street, asked compensation for damages through expropriation of property. This matter was settled some time ago.

R. Tucker, George Street, thanked the Council for acceding to the petition for a light, recently submitted by the residents of George Street
and Holdsworth Street and vicinity,
and asked that, in view of the present conditions in this section, the Reid Newfoundland Company be notified to have said light installed as quickly as possible. It was ordered accordingly.

The following plans were passed,
subject to the approval of the City Engineer.

Geo. Hampton, annex to shop,
Mundy Pond Road.

J. E. Whitten, outhouse, Hamilton Avenue.

J. Burnstin, outhouse Springdale Street.

The lighting of the city was discussed at some length and it was brought to the notice of the Board that, during the recent storm, a great portion of the city was in total darkness. The Reid Newfoundland Company will be asked for an explanation of this matter, and are also to be written regarding the present condition of electric light poles.

The report from the Department of Public Health showed two new cases of Diphtheria within the city for the week.

Reports of City Engineer and other Departmental heads were tabled.

Application of W. H. Ewing to install motor, Pleasant Street, was referred to the Engineer.

After the passing of pay rolls and bills, the meeting adjourned.

THE LOSS OF THE 'GORDON W.'

The "Gordon W." James Johnston,
master, which was lost at Low Point Cove during the storm of last Monday reports a terrible trip while it lasted. She left here at 8 a.m. on Monday with salt and general cargo, bound for Brown's Arm and Springdale. At 1 o'clock the weather got thicker, and in the snow storm it was impossible to see any land, with wind increasing, a strong S.E. by E. gale.
The vessel was kept on her course
and at 3 p.m. the ship found herself almost amongst the breakers. The helm was put hard down and the vessel got around this point, only to find that land was sighted right ahead. The mainsail was lowered, and the vessel wore around, just clearing the breakers and the master seeing no possibility of saving the vessel, headed her for a small cove,
which proved to be Low Point Cove and ran her ashore. By attaching a line from the vessel to the shore, the crew got to land in a dory, saving nothing but their clothes. The vessel broke up an hour afterward.
The crew walked to Caplin Cove on Thursday, and came to St. John's.
The master and crew had a hard time of it. James Johnston and George Johnston, owners of the schooner, come from Seldom Come By, Fred Stagg and Jacob Dalton
from Little Catalina, Fred Randall, from Fogo. One woman, Beatrice French, was on board going to her home.

James Johnston and George Johnston have been running schooners
for the past thirty years all ports from Labrador to Sydney and this was the narrowest escape they have ever had from losing their lives.

SWEET CHARITY

To The Editor.

Evening Advocate.
Dear Sir,—May I as in former years
be allowed the use of your columns to bring to the notice of the better-situated Citizens of St. John's our
"Christmas Appeal."

Already many have knocked at our doors and begged us not to forget them, and we are most anxious that they should not be disappointed.

Will the Reader of this "Appeal" kindly remember that there is real need in the city, and in many cases actual distress.

Quite recently my Officers have brought to my notice certain desperate cases, the details of which, if published would make terrible reading.

These are not "hear-says" but stern realities which our Officers have seen with their own eyes.

Please help us to help those who cannot help themselves. It is still true as Solomon said long years ago
"He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord and that which he hath given will He pay him again."
Prov. 19:17. Donations in cash or goods for this noble purpose should be sent, and all cheques made payable to:

Colonel Thomas Martin, S.A.,
Cor. Springdale and George Streets, City.

All gifts will be acknowledged in the public Press.

Yours sincerely,

T. MARTIN,
Colonel.

CONFERS WITH DEPUTIES

Returning Officer F. J. Doyle met his deputies last evening, for the purpose of making the necessary arrangements for Election Day, which is next Thursday.

There will be the usual number of booths in the city for the casting of ballots, but the counting of the latter will entail considerably more difficulty than usual.

The schooner Hilea Blanche, Capt.
W. Duncon, arrived Thursday from Bay de Verde, where she harboured
out of the storm.
